ELEVENTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1900.

MR. DAY'S DEATH

Casts a Gloom Over the Community Where He Was Beloved.

MET HIS END IN THE MINES.

Funeral Yesterday Under Auspices of United Order of the Golden Cross.

Tuesday evening shortly after 6 o'clock, the appalling news spread like wildfire over our city that Mr. J. W. Day, the mine foreman of No. 9 mine, had met his death by falling under a trip of empty cars. The sad tidings were flashed over the wires to friends and relatives, and in a short time hundreds of people were informed of his unexpected death. His wife was absent from home visiting friends in Hopkinsville, but the awful news soon reached her, and she returned on the first train to a home unexpectedly made desolate. Early next morning a jury was impaneled by Esquire Sisk, who viewed the remains, heard the evidence and returned the following verdict:

We the jury agree and find that the deceased, J. W. Day came to his death on the evening of September 25, 1900, by falling beneath a train of bank cars; said finding most likely being induced by heart trouble, for which he had been treated for sometime by local physician.

DAVE VINEGAR,
J. R. DEAN,
L. W. RICE,
D. C. WILLIAMS,
LEE OLDHAM.

The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the United Order of the Golden Cross. The Rev. J. F. Story made an impressive talk at the home of the deceased to a large audience of relatives and friends, after which the remains were consigned to their last resting place in the Earlinton cemetery, followed by a vast concourse of sorrowing ones.

Mr. Day was born January, 1848, near Hamby Station in Hopkins county and lived within the confines of the county all his life. He was the third of four children and a brother to the well known Jack Day, lately deceased. On December 26, 1866, he was united in marriage to Miss Fannie Hamby, with whom he lived happily until his decease. He was an exemplary member of the Christian Church from his eighteenth year, and although decided in his views he was free from bigotry or strenuous sectarianism.

For fourteen years and one month he had fully discharged every arduous duty pertaining to the foremanship of the most important mine in the Western coal field to the satisfaction of the management and the praise and content of those under his control. His official place will be hard to supply, and as a citizen, neighbor and friend, he leaves behind an aching void, never to be filled while his memory lasts.

He was a charter and an active member of the Golden Cross, in which order he carried a police of $2,000. At one time in life he was an Odd Fellow, but had severed his connection with that order.

Let us strive to imitate his example, cherish his memory and remember that the works of a good man are more imperishable than a monument of stone. There is a future, we think, and of life there is a small part; it is dust to dust beneath the sod. But then up there, it's heart to debate tonight.

COUNTY POLITICS.

EDITOR BEE.—

Democrats are not alarmed. You can't scare a Democrat. Hopkins is sure to go Democratic by at least 800. But the boys need exercise so the "boys" are ordered out to encourage the strong, strengthen the weak and reclaim the erring. All approve of the course. The more speakers they send the easier it will be for the Republicans to succeed. In 1896 they sent every man and woman that they could get for love or money (although the Democrats have no boddle) out in the highways and hedges to increase the majority, but the majority did not increase. Some thing was wrong that they could not account for. What was the matter? Why the "blasted Republicans" stole the election?" In 1899 they said they would see to it that if any stealing was done they would be the ones to do it.

Once more the "old guard" was ordered to the front. With drums beating and colors flying they again entered the field and proceeded to demolish the Republicans. But they would not be demolished, and on the morning of the election came to the front and with a quiet smile proceeded to smash the Democratic slate and now the conflict is raging again. But this time the Democrats say the Republicans have made a fatal mistake in nominating Mr. Lynch for Congress and proceed to show that there are not as many Republicans and Brown Democrats together as there are Republicans alone, which is just as logical as saying that five added to nine only makes eight. We doubt their sincerity. It always seemed to us that the more mistakes our opponents make the better it is for us. —A LOG CABIN VOTER.

RICHLAND WILL ORGANIZE

Yerke Club to Meet Next Week—Thos. E. Finey to Speak.

The Republicans of Richland will organize a Yerke club Friday night, October 5, at which meeting Thos. E. Finey and possibly others will speak. The meeting will be held in Richland church. This club was to have been organized last Friday, but the Republicans gave way to the Populists who were addressed that evening by Mr. Graham.

Hon. Will Graham spoke at Richland Friday night last for the Populists. He arraigned the Goebel law and Goebelism severely, calling it "imperialism in Kentucky."

Our good friend J. J. Lipscomb is the possessor of a very large pair of pants—for so small a man—and the boys are inclined to have some fun at his expense. But he turns the joke by saying that he is in favor of expansion and is preparing to expand more when McKinley is re-elected next November.

JOINT DEBATE.

Hon. N. B. Chambers and Congressman Henry D. Allen at Nebo.

Nebo, Sept. 26.—The joint debate here last night between Hon. N. B. Chambers, Chairman of the Second Congressional District Republican Committee and Congressman Henry Allen resulted in a manner most pleasing to the Republicans here and the general impression prevails that Mr. Allen has had enough joint debate to satisfy him for a while. It is not believed here that he will consent to meet Mr. Chambers in Earlinton in joint debate tonight.

Let us strive to imitate his example, cherish his memory and remember that the works of a good man are more imperishable than a monument of stone. There is a future, we think, and of life there is a small part; it is dust to dust beneath the sod. But then up there, it's heart to debate tonight.

MR. BECKHAM SPOKE.

Was introduced by John Brasher to a Large Crowd at Madisonville.

MANY REPUBLICANS HEARD HIM.

Mr. Beckham spoke to a large crowd in the Tabernacle at Madisonville Monday. Ex-Governor McCrory and Congressman Allen also spoke. Monday was the first day of the September term of circuit court, the speaking had been well advertised and there was a large crowd of people in town.

There were many Republicans and quite a number of ladies in the audience, many of whom went for the purpose of satisfying their curiosity as to the personal appearance and eloquent powers of the young man who is filling the office to which another man was elected. The general sentiment was that he looks younger than they say he is.

Mr. Beckham was introduced by John B. Brasher. Congressman Allen spoke first and Mr. McCreary finished the speaking.

BROWN DEMOCRATS

Open State Headquarters With Capt. W. H. Sweeney in Charge.

The headquarters of the Brown Democratic organization are now open, and the work of the campaign is being taken up in earnest.

The Hon. Arthur Wallace, chairman of the State Campaign Committee, will preside over the rooms allotted to the local contingent of the Honest Election Democracy, while the Hon. John W. Headley will act as Secretary.

Nearly everybody who could get to the city went to the big show at Madisonville last Saturday. The free ice water on the streets of the city, furnished by the city authorities, was highly appreciated by the people.

Helon Estelle Vickers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Vickers, aged two years, died here last Thursday. The remains were taken to Sailor's Rest, Tenn., for burial.

The Hon. N. B. Chambers, of Owensboro, made a rushing speech here last Monday night. The large and commodious new hall was filled with attentive listeners. Both town and country were fully represented. The speakers followed the policies of the two great parties and pointed out their effects upon the people. He showed that the Democratic party of today is the Democratic party of yesterday and that its teaching was degrading and otherwise injurious both to the moral and material welfare of the American people. Mr. Chambers made a good impression upon our people and was frequently applauded. After the speaking, twenty-five voters were enrolled with the McKinley and Yerke Club making a total of one hundred and three. The club meets every Monday night and all lovers of liberty are invited to attend.

A. N. Franklin, of near Charles-ton, owns a ewe which brought two lambs March 30, and two more on September 15 of the present year. All are doing well.

News of General Nature in the Busy Mining Town.

St. Charles News.

C. G. Robinson, of Earlinton, was in town last Monday.

A few of our citizens attended the Democratic rally in the county seat Monday.

Nearly everybody who could get to the big show at Madisonville last Saturday. The free ice water on the streets of the city, furnished by the city authorities, was highly appreciated by the people.

SCHOOL OPENED

Good Attendance on Opening Day and Classes Well Organized.

Perhaps the most important event of the week in Earlinton was the auspicious opening of our Public School at Assembly Hall Monday morning. There were several over two hundred pupils present at the opening ceremonies and many others will come in during this week and next.

About thirty of the youngest primary class will be on hand to take up their second year, and thirty-two little ones who had never been to school before began their school life Monday morning.

The principal, Miss Minnie Bourland, with her assistants, Misses Mothershead, Carlin, and Dean, the latter of whom has just recovered from an illness, were there and rapidly began the work of organization and classification.

The three trustees, W. F. Burr and Paul M. Moore were present and Mr. Burr addressed the school after musical, devotional and other exercises conducted by Miss Bourland.

A few parents and friends were there, including Mesdames C. H. McGarry, H. S. Corey, Jennie E. Moore, J. B. Wyatt, J. W. Day, Miss Ethel Evans, Mr. Long, W. A. Toombs and J. W. Lester.

The new seats are comfortable and attractive and the new windows put in Assembly Hall for the especial purpose supply a flood of light on a bright morning such as was the opening morning.

The opening is encouraging but all parents who have children of school age should send their children who were not there Monday. The children should be in school now unless they are ill. There is little excuse for keeping Earlinton children out of school.

COURT GRINDS.

Heavy Docket Begun Before Judge T. J. Nunn at Madisonville.

A large number of people were at the county seat Monday the first day of the September term of circuit court. Judge T. J. Nunn opened court with a heavy docket before him.

Henry Gooch, attorney for the state, was on duty.

The grand jury was chosen as follows: O. E. Slaton, foreman, D. R. Matthews, J. H. Wilkey, T. L. Oldham, Owen Blue, M. M. Wyatt, W. M. Hancock, G. W. Buchanan, J. N. Shannon, J. W. Crumbaker, J. R. Mills and Lee Bishop.

There are 125 commonwealth cases and more than 150 equity cases.

The case that will probably attract more attention than any other is the trial of Will McGarry, who was terribly shot, losing one eye and for a time expected to die, while he was Marshal of Slaughtersville some months ago. He was shot by Jody Gooch who at the same time shot and killed Wren Ashby, who had been summoned to assist in arresting Henry Gooch, father of the man who was shot near the railroad in Slaughtersville, having been shot and killed by an unknown person.

McGarry was arrested charged with his murder and upon this charge will be tried on the fifth day of this month.

Several damage suits are on docket against the L. & N. and I. C. railroads and one against the St. Bernard Coal Co. The city of Madisonville is defendant in three suits and a suit is brought against the city Marshal of Earlinton and his surety by a man who was locked up disorderly conduct on the 4th of July and who charges false imprisonment.

John Jennings and Roy Ford took in the circus at Madisonville last Saturday.

Mrs. J. F. Story and Mrs. Lamb have been visiting the family of L. B. Lindle.

Among those who have been having chills are Mrs. Borders and daughter, Wyatt Ford, Mrs. Bostick, Mr. and Mrs. Lindle and Myrtle Wilson.

Ernest Jennings and sister, Miss Cornelia, attended the fair at Guthrie Saturday.

J. F. Story called at Heslin last Sunday morning.

Henry Ford has gone to Providence.

Bord to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lindle, on Sept. 21, an 8-pound boy, Milton Story Lindle.

Mrs. Ford opened a dressmaking establishment at the home of the former, and invite their friends and the public to give them a call.

Mrs. Carlton and daughter Belle went to the circus last Saturday.

Speaking Canceled.

Arrangements had been made to have a joint political speaking here last night by Hon. N. B. Chambers and Congressman Henry D. Allen, but because of the deep pall of grief cast over the community by the death of our beloved fellow-citizen, Mr. J. W. Day, Republicans and Democrats alike were as one of the opinion that this speaking engagement should be canceled. And this has been. There is much time yet before the election for heated political argument and the community is the gainer for yielding to impulses of respect for the memory of a beloved and worthy citizen and neighbor.

The directors of the Louisville Horse Show have decided it advisable to increase the capacity of their building from 5,000 to 10,000. The arena will be 240 feet long. The show will be a very popular event.

At this writing, Conductor Thomas Browning is resting well and high hopes are entertained that amputation will be necessary.

A special train was run from Providence to Madisonville last Saturday night to accommodate those wishing to attend the circus.

Lee Cozart is now the flagman on the Hopkinsville and Nashville accommodation and with the experience he has had in the train service will make a good man for the place.

We would like for some one to tell us why you see so many McKinley buttons and badges, and all kinds of trashiness around. The British buttons are few and far between and all look small and dim. Probably it is expansion that makes them so.

The dark and unwelcome visage of death has again been in our midst and claimed as a victim one of the purest and best little girls of our community. On last Sunday night as the Holy Sabbath was approaching, the poor, weak day, the pure, sweet and loving soul of little Etha Bennett took its flight from this cold cruel earth and was carried across the dark waters on the snowy wings of an angel and deposited at the feet of the Blessed Savior, where all the pure and loving of this earth shall one day worship.

Little Etha was just twelve years old and a favorite of all who knew her; at school she was a sweet-tempered and dutiful pupil, a loving schoolmate and a friend to all. She died of typhoid fever and was only sick twelve days in which time she was treated with patience, always looking on the sunny side as was her nature, in all things. Her remains were laid to rest in Old Petersburg cemetery Monday evening in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives.

To the mourning family and friends we say, sorrow not as those who have no hope, for we know that our dear little friend is not dead, but has only been carried up higher to become one of the little lambs, which our Savior loves so well, and if we are only faithful yet, a little while at the longest, we will meet and rejoice with her, in the paradise of God.

railroads of the East, says Troublemaker Mitchell, stand strongly entrenched as the chief conspirators that caused the strike there among the coal miners.

One colored woman who lately lost her husband through his becoming intoxicated and taking up his resting place on the track, where the cars forever put him to sleep claimed fifty dollars damages of the railroad, when she should have presented her claim to the saloon keeper who sold the poor fellow his last drink, which was the cause of his death.

Last Saturday night while Conductor Joe Brown was doing some switching at Greenbrier, a man by the name of Sam Smiley was found dead in the coal yard and badly mangled. It is thought that while in an intoxicated condition, crawled under the cars and fell asleep and while joying a nap was run over by cars with the above result.

We understand the managers of the Forreigh and Sells Bros. shows highly appreciated the efforts put forth by railroad officials from Superintendent Logsdon down to see that not only were the trains moved promptly but safely, which was the case and always will be under such an efficient force as Trainmaster Devney, Chief Train Dispatcher Sheridan and the Trainmaster from St. Louis division, Mr. Sargent, who were in charge. There was no delay and no accident.

A question frequently asked and often is all right, but what you think that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What will you do? Get a good physician and let him prescribe.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

Jack Dockery has located at Barnsley, where he will be close to the mine, where he works.

Several of the coke ovens are undergoing repairs. George Farmsworth has charge of the work.

Although business was good, last week hundreds of the miners found time to attend the circus last Saturday.

The coal operator in charge of mines, where miners strike now exists, refuse to recognize the Miners Union, and will treat only with the men individually.

Thos. Hodge, who for some time has had charge of the slack washer at the coke ovens has quit the job and returned to his first love, the carpenter's trade.

John Boden is now accused of going into the laundry business, which foreman Toombs says is confined exclusively to the slack washer at the coke works.

Mining Engineer Norwood, of the St. Bernard Company was so crowded with mine work and surveying on the outside for new buildings, that he gets but little time for rest or to talk politics.

Thousands of miners in the east limit the number of apprentices whom they control? Is this not artificially regulating and restricting production and prices? Is this not doing exactly what they condemn the trusts for? Are not labor unions the mass of the laboring people, like the mass of American citizens generally, are honest and mean to do right, but I would ask the labor union men, are not your unions trusts? Are you not regulating or trying to regulate, production, prices and competition exactly as you charge the trust companies? Come on all try to be fair; let us practice "live and let live;" don't howl against trusts and at the same time practice the methods which trusts are used.

The union labor people yesterday held great celebrations in all parts of the country. Everybody rejoices at the increasing dignity and prosperity of labor. Labor is honorable everywhere in the United States.

COUNTRIES WHERE OUR COAL FINDS MARKET.

At present the countries to which American coal could be carried with profit are those lying about the Mediterranean Sea, Spain, France, Italy, Egypt and the Black Sea ports of Russia and Turkey. The South African market is not a profitable one. Ultimately the South American market will be taken away from England, but that is a matter resting wholly with future developments. The Mediterranean ports are just the objective points of the American coal exporters.

This country never can have a large export trade in coal until it has a large fleet of coal carrying boats, and it is not believed by the coal operators that it will ever have such a fleet unless it subsidizes it. At this time the advantage enjoyed by England over the United States in the cost of construction and operation of its merchant marine is at least twenty per cent. Then, too, a ship costing $100,000.00 in England will be sold for $60,000.00. It is believed, however, that there is any chance of a collapse of the coal export business with a cessation of the port of Liverpool with a prospect of peace.

Scarcely had the order to strike been issued a week before bloodshed occurred. As a result of course, effort will be made by the strikers to shift the responsibility from their shoulders to that of the operators.

When men do wrong and they see public sentiment, as it will in this case, turn against them, they are eager to throw the blame on the innocent, or in other words their acts make cowards of them, and why should it not. The very fact that Mitchell and his gang have placed something like three hundred thousand and miners, women and children on the paupers list, looks to us like a crime. If a corporation would use every effort to pay men the minimum wage, and families were caused to suffer, at once an indignation meeting would be called by the public, and resolutions passed condemning said corporation.

But here comes a labor leader, who should use his greatest efforts to provide work for the idle, and who does by his orders, rob over one hundred thousand miners, and two hundred thousand women and children of the necessities of life, the result being the same. Justice demands that, he likewise be censured.

The city aldermen of Louisville were lately petitioned by the Printers' Union of that city to give preference to work done by union labor, and above all, we give the answer, which the leaders will find very pointed indeed:

Alderman Munn, from the committee on printing, presented a report on the resolution, in which the following language is used:

"Your committee desires to state emphatically that it is in no way hostile to or prejudiced against labor unions or the Allied Printing Trades' Council, and it will offer no objection to the city buyer giving the preference to the union label on all city printing at the same price, but it does not believe that any individual firm, organization, or corporation has the right to demand or expect city work at a higher price than others are willing to do it for."

50c and $1.00; all druggist.

Does it not get pleasant to take.

Doctors recommend it. Price 25c. At all druggists.

The board refused to concur in the report. President Ballard and Mr. Munn only voting in the affirmative. The question then arose as to the preliminary status of the resolution in the two boards, and as there was an evident tangle, the resolution was put back to the lower board to do with it as it saw fit.

Now the question arises, does the law permit a city to do this? If it objects to free competition, does it not confess itself a trust? Is it consistent or right in labor unions to seek to pass laws to compel the city and the citizens to pay more for the city printing than other responsible bidders will do the work for? Are not the labor unions against trusts because they are raising prices and stifling competition? In this printing matter the union printers trying to raise prices and choke off competition?

Do not labor unions arbitrarily limit the number of apprentices whom they control? Is this not artificially regulating and restricting production and prices? Is this not doing exactly what they condemn the trusts for? Are not labor unions

This country never can have a large export trade in coal until it has a large fleet of coal carrying boats, and it is not believed by the coal operators that it will ever have such a fleet unless it subsidizes it. At this time the advantage enjoyed by England over the United States in the cost of construction and operation of its merchant marine is at least twenty per cent. Then, too, a ship costing $100,000.00 in England will be sold for $60,000.00. It is believed, however, that there is any chance of a collapse of the coal export business with a cessation of the port of Liverpool with a prospect of peace.

Scarcely had the order to strike been issued a week before bloodshed occurred. As a result of course, effort will be made by the strikers to shift the responsibility from their shoulders to that of the operators.

When men do wrong and they see public sentiment, as it will in this case, turn against them, they are eager to throw the blame on the innocent, or in other words their acts make cowards of them, and why should it not. The very fact that Mitchell and his gang have placed something like three hundred thousand and miners, women and children on the paupers list, looks to us like a crime. If a corporation would use every effort to pay men the minimum wage, and families were caused to suffer, at once an indignation meeting would be called by the public, and resolutions passed condemning said corporation.

But here comes a labor leader, who should use his greatest efforts to provide work for the idle, and who does by his orders, rob over one hundred thousand miners, and two hundred thousand women and children of the necessities of life, the result being the same. Justice demands that, he likewise be censured.

The city aldermen of Louisville were lately petitioned by the Printers' Union of that city to give preference to work done by union labor, and above all, we give the answer, which the leaders will find very pointed indeed:

Alderman Munn, from the committee on printing, presented a report on the resolution, in which the following language is used:

"Your committee desires to state emphatically that it is in no way hostile to or prejudiced against labor unions or the Allied Printing Trades' Council, and it will offer no objection to the city buyer giving the preference to the union label on all city printing at the same price, but it does not believe that any individual firm, organization, or corporation has the right to demand or expect city work at a higher price than others are willing to do it for."

RADICAL DEMOCRATS SCARED.

McCreary Telegraphs Orders to Make Apparent Concession on the Election Bill.

Frankfort, Sept. 25.—Realizing that his plans for passing an election law worse than the Goebel bill have been blocked by the united force of the Republicans and conservative Democrats, Mr. McCreary this morning telegraphed to his lieutenants in the Legislature, ordering them to make some concessions to the opposition. The exact wording of his message was withheld, but the substance was as follows:

"Call a general conference of Democrats for this afternoon and use every effort to placate the conservative element." Agree to the abolition of the judicial power from State and County Boards, but insist that the Democrats have a majority on every County Board. If possible secure the incorporation in the new bill of the clause of the majority Senate bill, which provides "that in Democratic counties the sheriff at every precinct shall be a Democrat and shall have a deciding vote."

One of our doctors and a merchant would like very much to know the whereabouts of one Robt Newton, a member of the U. M. W. as they are his bondsmen for the sum of $20. Should he fail to make his appearance in a very short while Judge Slaton will demand of his bondsman the amount of the fine.

C. G. Robinson spent Monday with relatives in St. Charles.

James W. Finley was in the city Monday afternoon.

COUGHS KILL

We know of nothing better than coughing to tear the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up, and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, bringing on a slow fever, and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption. Better kill your cough before it kills you.

Ayer's Sherry Pectoral

Kills coughs of every kind. A 25 cent bottle is just right for an ordinary cough; for the harder coughs of bronchitis you will need a 50 cent bottle; and for the coughs of consumption the one dollar size is most economical.

Another cough reduced me to mere shadow, and all my remedies, but all failed. After using the Ayer's Sherry Pectoral I began to improve, and three bottles have now brought me back to life. I owe my life to Ayer's.

There are living 70 grandchildren, 70 great-grandchildren and 5 great-great-grandchildren. The relatives were well represented, and relatives of D. O. and L. L. Root, and 60 relatives were present. The 12 children and their offspring reside in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska.

Dos Meines, Ill., Sept. 26.—Four persons were killed and several others severely injured in a waterspout and tornado at Ferguson last evening. The Milwaukee agent and the telegraph operators were badly hurt. The railroad station, bridge, hotel, and all cars were blown from the tracks and more or less damaged, and many houses were destroyed. Wire connections with Ferguson are interrupted and it is not known the number of all those killed and injured.

A severe waterspout and wind and rain are reported from the vicinity of Bedford and Madrid, where the tracks are washed out in many places. Towns along the Great Western road also received a hard wind and rain this side of Marshalltown.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,

JOHN W. YERKES.For Congress,
WILLIAM LYNCH,
Of Hopkins County.

For some reason that has not been advertised in the paper W. H. Borders is no longer deputy county assessor for the Earlington magisterial district.

Forty-five thousand native Catholics have been massacred in China, besides the thousands of foreign and native Christians of all other denominations. Isn't it about time that some politician should object to Uncle Sam's soldiers being in China?

Boss CROAKER, who is for Croaker and the Ice Trust and Bryan, has been advertising the fact that he has made large bets on Bryan's election, without going to the trouble of confirming the expressed belief of many people that he is quietly hedging on the other side.

BEN C. KEYS, of Calloway County, was nominated by acclamation for Congress to represent the First district, at the convention of Brown Democrats, Populists and Republicans held at Paducah yesterday. It was a big convention and its unanimous and hearty action made the Goebel Democracy feel weak. This is the year that Kentuckians are putting patriotism before partisanship.

The Courier-Journal special correspondent who reported from Madisonville the other day was inspired to say that "the importation of negroes to Hopkins county had already begun." The people are wondering upon whose authority this stranger correspondent made this statement and where the negroes are alleged to be imported from and where to. They have not forgotten the clumsily made anonymous letter last year published in the Courier-Journal, and the fact that that story was refuted in every other paper except the Courier-Journal, which had not the decency ever to correct the proven outrageous falsehoods which they promulgated without inquiring of their local correspondents in Hopkins county as to the facts in the case. The Courier-Journal thinks to begin earlier this year to lay the groundwork for Goebelistic rascality at and after the November election under the Goebel law. But it is expected that the honest people of Hopkins county will be found at work and determined to prevent any high-handed rascality on the part of the machine, if such should be attempted.

Responsibility for the Strike.

The strike so long threatened in the anthracite regions has become a fact, and a power of a few men, all perfectly irresponsible, to throw thousands of people out of employment if fully exemplified. This is a fearful responsibility to be shouldered by a few men drawn from the laboring ranks North and South. Not only are thousands of men idle and not gaining their livelihood, but millions of dollars of capital is deprived of its earning power, and the leaders of a labor union is shown to be more absolute than any monarchical country in Europe. Of course it is understood and known that formal application for leave to strike had been received from union and placed before the executive board of the U. M. W. of A., but it is not believed that it represented the wishes of the majority of the miners, who were realizing from $40 to $70 a month. How is it with the operators who have their capital invested in these properties? Few, if any, are paying dividends and yet the strikers want and expect capital to employ them at enhanced wages and continue to make absolute losses instead of gains. For years the wage scale has been the same, and yet the price of anthracite to the middleman, distributor and consumer has steadily receded. Therefore it will be readily understood why the majority of the men did not want to strike. The men, as a whole, are better circumstanced than they were 25 years ago, and in a general way they realize it. Again, there is an entire lack of sympathy among the store-keepers, clergy and others. The mercantile community, as a rule, champions the cause of the miner when evidence of a convincing character is shown that the men are right, which in this case is wanting. Furthermore, the union leaders formulated demands which they had every reason to believe would not be considered, much less granted on such short order, and they must therefore be made to shoulder great responsibility of this strike, which it is hardly necessary to say, could have been avoided had the executive of the union exercised greater tact and conservatism. It will be hoping against hope, to expect that as the strike proceeds there will be no lawlessness, if there is it, the trouble must be sponsored by the union leaders.—Black Diamond.

A FUNNEL-SHAPED CLOUD.

The Little Town of Morristown, Minnesota, Visited by a Regular Twister.

EIGHT MEN KILLED; OTHERS MISSING.

The Loss of Property in the Track of the Tornado Quits Heavy-Battling Littered Home From Their Foundations, Crumpled a Distance and Crushed Like Egg-shells.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—A Pioneer Press telegraph from Faribault, Minn., says:

"Word has been received here to-night that a cyclone struck Morristown at 5 o'clock. Eighteen have been killed and a large number more are missing. Reports very meager. A large tree was lifted from the ground and carried over a house top and dashed through a window, which was used as a saloon. The house was completely wrecked, and the bodies of eight men were taken from the ruins. The report does not say how much damage was done to property there, but it is believed that the loss is not a small one."

A special to the Times from Faribault, Minn., says:

"The storm, without warning, took the citizens of Morristown, from a southwesterly direction, passing over to the northeast. The length of its path in the village was less than half a mile, and owing to its peculiar action the damage done to houses was not so great as at first thought. The storm made jumps of one block, but whenever it came down everything was crumpled by the power of the wind."

"A man belonging to E. D. Burghoff, who lives on the outskirts of the village, was the first to be destroyed, and it was one of the freak features of the storm. The barn was picked up and carried a block, leaving the floor uninjured, with two horses standing on it. The building was crushed.

"From here the storm jumped a block to the saloon of Paul Gatzke. But it reached the Gatzke saloon in a two-story brick building which was left untouched. All the people killed and injured in Morristown were in the saloon, having hurriedly taken refuge when the storm was seen on its course over the village. There were 16 persons in the saloon. The destruction at the time the storm struck. The building was raised from its foundation and crushed like an eggshell. But before the building fell the 16 persons managed to escape, and the other 13 were found in the list of dead and injured."

"After leaving the saloon the storm crossed 1½ streets and destroyed the barn of J. C. Teeter, and took the roof off the barn of W. H. Bigoli, then crossed the Cannon River, and destroyed the barn of Adam Snyder, killing several hogs."

"The storm then passed off to the northwest, and did no further damage."

BRITISH AT KOMATIPOORT.

The Bridge Found Insect—Much Rolling Stock and Ammunition Captured.

London, Sept. 24.—Lord Roberts reports from Pretoria, under date of Sept. 23, that the guerrillas under Poco-Curey secured Komatiportoort Monday morning. The bridge was found intact. Much rolling stock, locomotives and truck loads of "long Tom" ammunition were captured. Only a few rifle shells were fired.

Lord Roberts said:

"Pocu has captured Erasmus' camp, 3,000 cattle, 3,000 sheep and 23 prisoners."

"Pocu has made another big haul of stock."

Lord Roberts also reports that the few Boer troops remaining in the eastern Transvaal are completely "out of hand" and says they are now in a state of rebellion. The marines having gone to Lorenzo Marquez, owing to the Portuguese government promising to maintain them while there and give them passage to their respective countries.

AN OBNOXIOUS ORDER.

Gold Miners Object to Precautions by Mine Owners to Protect Their Property.

Victor, Oct. 25.—As the result of an obnoxious order, designed by the management to stop the theft of valuable ore, the Montana Independence gold miners have been closed down. The miners announce that they will not go back while the order remains in force, and the superintendent says the order will not be revoked unless any change is made.

Other mine companies have issued a similar order and signed an agreement with the Independence company to enforce it. The order provides that all workers must change their clothes, both in going on and off shift, and pass naked before watchmen from one dressing room to another.

The superintendent of Stratton's mind to say that the company has lost $5,000 ed rascals per month through the pecunia machine, if of workmen.

With the Compulsory.

For Sept. 25.—The Republic.

The strike so long-day or Friday, in the anthracite field, recently satisfied with the conference.

RELAXATION OF ANXIETY.

The Evening Question Nov. 1st Who Shall Represent Us in Peace Negotiations?

Washington, Sept. 24.—With the second diplomatic note bearing on the Chinese situation disposed of by answers to their respective powers, the attitude of the United States now is a waiting one. There was a general relaxation of anxiety apparently, but nothing, however, passed without any developments in the way of important dates.

Now that the notes are acted upon, the question of the commission to negotiate peace is again revived. Among others whose names were suggested last night, as one of the commissioners was Judge William R. Day, of Canton, the former Secretary of state, who was recalled to the American Spanish peace commission and in all probability would be persona grata to China. His ill health, however, is a serious consideration which might lead him to decline if offered a commissionership.

A RELIC OF SPANISH RULE.

Porto Rico's Demand Against Cuba—Ask Repayment of a Loan Made to Spain.

Havana, Sept. 24.—Porto Rico's demand on Cuba for the re-payment of more than two million five hundred thousand dollars, advanced to Spain to conduct military operations against Cuba, has been the subject of considerable discussion here. Considerations regarding why they should repay funds lent to the enemy for the express purpose of subduing them.

Gen. Goodwin, the American legation, demanded from Washington on Aug. 10, of Porto Rico, together with a memorandum couched in diplomatic language, pointing out that he is unable to take any action in the matter.

BIG FIRE IN BROOKLYN.

Grain Warehouse and Elevators on the Atlantic Dock Partially Destroyed.

New York, Sept. 25.—Fire partially destroyed the large grain warehouse and elevators on the Atlantic dock, Brooklyn, causing a loss of $100,000. All the people killed and injured in Morristown were in the saloon, having hurriedly taken refuge when the storm was seen on its course over the village. There were 16 persons in the saloon. The destruction to stock was stock. The building was raised from its foundation and crushed like an eggshell. But before the building fell the 16 persons managed to escape, and the other 13 were found in the list of dead and injured.

"After leaving the saloon the storm crossed 1½ streets and destroyed the barn of J. C. Teeter, and took the roof off the barn of W. H. Bigoli, then crossed the Cannon River, and destroyed the barn of Adam Snyder, killing several hogs."

"The storm then passed off to the northwest, and did no further damage."

TWO STEAMERS BURNED.

Destruction of the Steamers War Eagle and Carrier at Their Moorings in St. Louis.

FIRE ACCOMPANIED BY LOSS OF LIFE.

Third Clerk Joseph Schultz of the War Eagle burned to death, Henry Holtz Pantryman, Missing, and Others Injured—Two Wharfs Badly Damaged.

St. Louis, Sept. 26.—In the destruction, by fire, of the steamers War Eagle and Carrier, at the foot of Locust street, early Friday morning, one was killed, three injured, and another is missing; a third was painfully burned, and property estimated at $100,000 in value was lost.

The wharf boats Eagle and Illinois were badly damaged.

Joseph Schultz, third clerk of the War Eagle, was burned to death.

Henry Holtz, of Cincinnati, the senior pantryman on the War Eagle, is missing.

Robert H. Miller, watchman on the War Eagle, was severely burned about the neck and hands.

Starting of the Fire.

The fire started about 4 a.m., in the sleeping room of the fireman of the War Eagle, of the Eagle Packet Co., who was lying on the wharf waiting to go on cargo for a regular trip to Commerce, Mo., and ways parts.

It was discovered by Robert Miller, the watchman. He got a bucket of water, and threw it on the flames, but saw that efforts of this kind would be useless. The woodwork was perfectly dry, and Miller says, the flames were all about him before he had time to get another bucket of water, and sprang up the ladder and rushed to the deck of the boat to arouse the officers and crew.

The third clerk, Joseph Schultz, was also asleep. He was awakened by smoke before he could escape. Nobody seems to know anything about Holtz. Henry Sherman, the boy who was alone, and has not been seen since, was burned while he was making a second round of the boat to make sure that everyone was awakened.

Communication to the Carrier. The Carrier, a smaller boat, plying between Mozier Landing, Ill., and St. Louis, arrived at two o'clock Friday morning, and was moored to a wharf a little behind the War Eagle. On board of her, asleep, were 20 passengers, the crew and a large cargo of wheat, apples and other produce. Before the Carrier could be let loose, the fire had communicated to her upper works, and the watchman, William Criger, an oven decked off all his energies to getting the passengers ashore and out of the boat, and notwithstanding many of the former were women, he was happily successful.

The fire department responded promptly, but the whole river would have been effective in the extinguishing of the flames. The best the department could do was to call nearby boats and wharves. Their efforts on this line were successful, but other damage being to the wharf, the boats and the wharves, was not insured.

The War Eagle was put in service yesterday, and the day before, she was insured to the hull. Officers of the Eagle Packet Co., which owned her, believe the hull is not damaged. They estimate the loss at $50,000, with no insurance.

The Carrier, a much smaller boat, was worth $7,000. She was insured. The value of her cargo is not known, but it is estimated at $3,000. The carrier was not insured.

Crews and Passengers. The two boats burned lost everything they had on board. Most of the men slept in shirts and overalls. Nearly all had sheets of clothing on board. None made any attempt to save these. Clothing, jackets, tools, all the possessions of those on board, were forgotten in the rush for life.

Of more value than the clothing and property of those who slept on the boat were the belongings of Capt. Leyte, Clerk, Cook and Larrie, and half a dozen other of the higher officials of the boat who had slept the night at their homes in the city.

Some of the passengers on the boat were married, and their families were present. The wife of Capt. Leyte, the hero of Cardenas, and the first American officer to be killed in the Spanish-American war, left yesterday for Bath, Me., to attend the launching of the torpedo boat eagle, named in honor of the dead eagle.

The tug Susie Hazard, which was moored at the stern of the Carrier, narrowly escaped destruction.

Operators Define Situation in Anthracite Fields.

The September letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association, New York, issued last Friday, has the following to say in regard to the labor situation at the mines in Pennsylvania:

"If the miners were really an unpaid and oppressed body of men there might be an excuse for the existence of such an organization as this union. But they are not. They are good miners require intelligence, and this is synonymous with independence. Such a miner can, in the small number of hours he is underground, earn more money per hour with less physical exertion than any other class of skilled labor in the country. It is not by any means unusual for a good miner in Pennsylvania to make net earnings of $4 with six or seven hours' work, and do it continuously if he chooses to work.

"The coal labor difficulties never begin with the skilled miner. But the lazy and careless man who will work only long enough to give himself a bare living, will shout at any gathering where fiery eloquence demands work—good, plain, honest work—as something which the evil one has created at the express instigation of capital. No employer, more particularly no mine owner, who wishes to secure an income from his investment and personal labor can afford to underpay his employees. Such a thing more than any other would develop carelessness, and this mine or manufacturer is disastrous."

Hawkins, Lige Pritchett, Ben Cunningham and Hubbard Garrett, all of the best of our colored citizens, bought George Toy out of the livery business Tuesday and are now operating in the Ike Davis stable, where Mr. Toy has conducted his business. Rev. R. M. Wheat attended prayer-meeting here last Thursday night. It was his last visit before conference. We cheerfully recommend him as an upright Christian gentleman and a devoted minister wherever his lot may be cast.

It is with sadness that we record the death of Walter Roland, son of Dan and Caroline Roland, who died Tuesday, September 18, of typhoid fever. He was born in 1875, came to Rose Creek where the funeral was preached by Rev. Woodruff and was then laid to rest in the Union cemetery, to await the Master's call.

Hons. N. B. Chambers, Republican, and H. D. Allen, Democrat, have appointments for Nebo Tuesday night. As we have but one house suitable for the purpose, one will be compelled to follow the other.

Political matters are beginning to be discussed by our loafers' club and will be thoroughly ventilated. The Republicans are in complete harmony, while the Democrats are divided. Some favor a new election law, some want the Goebel law amended, and some are in favor of letting the law stay as it is. For our part, we do not see how they can favor the proposal as they said last year that it was a good law; Beckham says it is a good law, and if it is repealed it will be only for the sake of gaining votes.

LESSON XIV, THIRD QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, SEPT. 30.

LESSON XV.—A Comprehensive Quarterly Review of the Old Testament Texts, Jas. 1, 22—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1890, by American Press Association.)

LESSON I.—Jesus, a Comprehensive Teacher.—Review of Old Testament Texts, Jas. 1, 22—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1890, by American Press Association.)

LESSON II.—Jesus, the bread of life.—John vi, 22-30; Golden Text, Math. xiv, 33; “Of a truth Thou art the Son of God.” He had just been feeding more than 5,000 people with the last few loaves he had, and having miraculously caused his disciples to cross the lake without Him, He sent the multitudes away. Then He took along a few loaves to pray. The disciples found a head wind and a rough sea, and their circumstances were very suggestive of the condition of the church today, to whom He has given adverse circumstances; but the Lord Jesus is at the Father’s right hand for us, and will be with us in the hour of trial.

LESSON III.—Jesus, the gentle woman’s faith (Mark viii, 24-30).—Golden Text, Math. xv, 25; “Lord, have mercy on us.” It was a great joy to the Lord to find faith in any soul, but it must have made Him very glad to have occasion to say to this woman, “I let no man even as thou with me” (Mark viii, 28). In His last prayer with His disciples, it was a joy to Him to be able to say to His Father, “I have given them thy word, and they have received it; and thou hast given them, and they have received them” (John xix, 8).

LESSON IV.—Peter’s confession and Christ’s rebuke.—Matthew xvi, 13-20; Golden Text, Math. xvi, 24. “If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me.” The Lord Jesus spoke of the way of the cross and His sufferings for us, satan took possession of Peter and through him Peter denied Christ three times. But if satan’s way is to have us pity ourselves and take what seems the easiest way, but the only way for a child of God is to deny self, a life unto God alone (II Cor. xiii, 11).

LESSON V.—The transfiguration (Luke ix, 28-36; Golden Text, Luke ix, 35).—This was doubtless the fulfillment of His saying in verse 27, that some of them that were with Him “should see the kingdom of God.” The glories of the kingdom, instead of being earthly, had caused them to consider who would be the greatest, and there was a strife among them concerning who should be the right before death (Luke xxii, 42). There are still those who love pre-eminence for themselves rather than for Him (III John, 1, 10, 18).

LESSON VI.—The spirit of the living spirit (Math. xxiii, 24-35).—Golden Text, Math. vi, 12; “Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.” The proud and haughty, who are the chief ones that His spirit is apt to hear and forgive, but the truly humble, who in all measure trust in the forgiving power of God, for Christ’s sake, have given them, are kind, tender-hearted and forgiving to others (Eph. iv, 32).

LESSON VII.—The man born blind (John ix, 1-17).—Golden Text, John ix, 25. “One thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.” There are those who are blind to the truth of the gospel, even, iii, 17; John ix, 40, 41); this is the world kind; but when people know they are blind and earnestly desire to have eyes, He is always ready to relieve them and manifest the work of God in them to the glory of God.

LESSON VIII.—The good Shepherd (John x, 1-16).—Golden Text, John x, 11. “The good shepherd giveth His life for the sheep.” He who by the sacrifice of His life gave us salvation, gave us also to the sick and to the perishing, teaches us that, having received life from Him as a free gift and being enabled to share His personal love, we ought to let Him possess us fully and reproduce His life in us for the good of others.

LESSON IX.—The harvest sent forth (Luke x, 1-17; 15-20).—Golden Text, Luke, x, 2. “The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few.” As lambs are sent to the fold, so we are sent to compare the way before Him, authorizing them to heal the sick and to preach the kingdom of God; and when they returned, surprised the master of the Lord, through them. He told them that it was a greater cause of joy to know that their names were written in heaven. LESSON X.—The good Samaritan (Luke x, 25-37).—Golden Text, Lev. xix, 18, “Love thy neighbor as thyself.” It is easier to do good to those who are away from them who need our help just because it is easier and more comfortable to know the condition of those who are near us. Hence we ought to save, but to seek in order to save, and our orders are to do likewise in all the world. If we feel inclined to refuse, let us remember, “He that refuseth to go, shall be cast into hell” (Matt. xxv, 41, 42).

LESSON XI.—The rich fool (Luke xii, 18-23).—Golden Text, Mark viii, 36. “What shall a man gain if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?” Here is the greatest possible contrast to the good Samaritan, a man who makes no provision for his soul or his body, with no thought of God or of a judgment to come, and not considering the possibility of his being called into the presence of God.

LESSON XII.—The duty of watchfulness (Luke xii, 35-46).—Golden Text, Mark xi, 24; “Therefore stand ye in prayer, and enter not into temptation.” If we are redeemed by the blood of Jesus, He puts us in trust with the gospel and His manifold grace, that we may as faithful and wise stewards represent Him here.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 30—Commentary by S. H. Doyle.

Tone.—Our foolishness.

The PARABLE.

The parable of the great supper was spoken by Christ at a feast in the house of a Pharisee on the Sabbath day. Christ had been speaking to the Jews on the subject of the character of guests who should be invited to a feast. This led one who was present to exclaim, “Blessed is he that shall eat in the kingdom of God.” Then Christ spoke this parable of the supper as much as to condemn a man’s enthusiasm over this feast, when at the same time he had not accepted the invitation to attend it. He said, “It is not so; but others will occupy the places that could have been ours, and we will be cast out.” When it paid to go to a wedding in this world, it did not suit a fast. Christ Himself has declared that it will not, though we should win the whole world, for He says, “What is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?”

Management of a National Campaign

By Hon. Henry C. Payne, Vice Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

The most remarkable feature of the management of a political campaign is that the organizers perfect in about four months a system that accomplishes as much and works as smoothly as the business machinery of a great mercantile firm that has taken, perhaps, a lifetime to systematize. The parallel is not quite a fair one in particular; a political organization is always more or less in trim for a campaign, while a business concern has to be built from the ground up, but even given the foundation provided by trained leaders in various sections of the country, there is an amount of work to be done before the campaign can be properly conducted that is astonishing to those who have had nothing to do with the inner workings of a great political organization's machinery.

In some cases it is deemed necessary to have only one central headquarters. This year, in consequence of the nature of the forces involved, we have two, one in Chicago and one in New York. The country is divided into two sections, the territory east of the Alleghenies being one and the country west of those mountains clear through to the Pacific coast comprising the other.

The first business of the campaign managers is to select suitable quarters for the campaign committees. Having chosen quarters and settled down in them, the active business of the campaign will begin at once. Various bureaus are organized under competent directors, who are carefully chosen from among those who have shown marked aptitude for the work during former campaigns. To direct one of these bureaus is no sinecure and few men are fitted for it. The most important bureaus are the speakers' bureaus and the literature bureau. There are other bureaus which I will refer to later. They are of minor importance compared with the two named. The speakers' bureau, as its name implies, has the engagings of the orators who make the speeches during the campaign. It is interesting to note the triumph of organization in this particular department. Speakers are not sent out to broadcast over the land, merely to spout politics, hit or miss. Every shot tells in a well managed campaign. In some quarters the silver question is rampant; in others the labor element has to be addressed by speakers who are able to cope with the many issues that are the pet ones of the rank and file of working men; in others the speaker is likely to have to address an audience made up for the most part of Germans, or, perhaps, Italians or Scandinavians; in another part of the country the voters are mostly made up of farmers and their assistants. All these points have to be considered in dispatching the speakers to their various meeting places.

How it does? By common sense methods of organization. The local leaders are in close touch with the bureau director. The local men know what kind of a speaker is likely to suit their townspersons. They know how many people the speaker will be called upon to address; they pretty well know what kind of a reception he will get. They communicate with the bureau director and tell him that a linguist is necessary, for he might have to drop from English into German, or Scandinavian, in order to bring home his arguments forcibly to the perception of the audience. The bureau director, who has on his list of speakers men who can address meetings in almost any tongue, sends to the German section a man capable of addressing a meeting in the tongue of the Fatherland; he sends to the Scandinavian or Swedish district the man who can speak in the accents of the home country. To the farm districts he sends a man who knows enough country life to be sympathetic with the hopes and fears of the agriculturists, and to the city he sends a speaker who can hold his own with the best of the opposition's talent and rise superior to the trials of a campaign tour either in the enemy's country or in a section where the enemy has no friends at all.

While the bureau director depends to a great extent upon the local leaders for the points regarding the kind of speaker likely to suit the locality, he depends mostly upon his own individual judgment when it comes to the selection of the speakers in the first place. No one ever has to listen to an incompetent speaker at a campaign meeting. The reason is that the directors are too careful in the selection of the speakers to permit an incompetent man to get on the roll. There is no private test of his forensic abilities,

Chauncey M. Depew

New York Senator Predicts Overwhelming Triumph
Of McKinley and Roosevelt.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

(By Chauncey M. Depew.)

The Republican party goes before the nation this year with a record of accomplished facts. It appealed to the nation four years ago, at a time when our farmers were groaning under mortgages that crushed them down, and when our streets were full of unemployed men. The industrial and monetary legislation of the Democratic party had shaken public confidence. By the passing of the gold standard bill it has ensured that gold shall henceforth be the standard of value, and placed the United States in harmony with the commercial nations of the world. The farmers are prosperous as they never were before. An era of unemployment plenty has set in all over the land. Wages were never so high as today, work was never so abundant. The difficulty now is not to find work, but to find men to do all the work that is waiting to be done. The man who is out of employment today in the United States is so because of his own fault or choice.

The silver orators of the Democratic party told us at the last election that silver was the real standard of value, and that the variations in the price of silver always corresponded with the variations in the price of the main commodities of life. The last four years have shown such a theory to be quite groundless, for whereas the price of corn has risen, the value of silver has steadily and continuously declined.

The whole gist of their anti-imperialism, anti-militarism, and financial proposal is that the United States abandon all its possessions outside the North American continent and go back to the nation it says to the American people. "You are accustomed to rule colonies, and if you cannot live and prosper without commercial standards which will make possible a steady increase in the market value and consumption increasing markets for agriculture and manufacturers, you are degenerates, for surely your fathers got on very well with the condition of things which was the feature of their platform in 1860, they now place after imperialism. They know it is discreditable, and was buried in the last election, but they still insist on it. The party compels them to adopt it. So they put it behind the raw-head-and-blood-booths of militarism, holding the voters will support it. It is certain that the bandit in the sand and certain the bandit cannot see his huge body swaying behind, is a wise bird compared to these statesmen. The vote of 26 to 1 in favor of the amendment on the plank of the national platform in 1860, has now come to pass after the adoption of the plank of free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 is a division on the candidate's own measure, and will grow steadily and desirably, as it did in 1860.

The people of the United States are progressive, expansive, ambitious, and courageous. They are bold and determined to turn them back from the position they have reached among the great powers. The largest standing army in the world, the nation's government cost of 100,000,000 dollars, or to collect contributions or recruits from the people terrorized by cutting out their tongues, cutting off limbs, burying alive, and other forms of torture. The result of detection enables the insurgen- tary bands to maintain surveillance over the people. Uncertainty as to the future policy of the United States has been created in the minds of the people without arms largely preventing them aiding Americans in suppressing outrages. Despite these difficulties, the maintenance of status quo makes for more peaceful conditions.

All Northern Luzon except in Neutral and Eastern Mindanao, and the provinces of Negros, Siquijor, and Cebu are in rebellion. The railway telegraph lines from Manila to Dagupan, 12 miles, have not been molested for five months.

The Tagalog alongs are active in leading the guerrilla warfare and have succeeded in recruiting bands and the like. The Samal, Sulu, and parts of Mindanao, which mountaineers themselves by the methods described in Negros, Cebu, Romblon, Masbate, Sibuyan, and Palawan, and other Visayan islands little districts exists and small government is eagerly awaited. Near Cayagan in Mininao, an old Tagalog band set up a considerable force. Latang make the disturbance country dangerous and disturbance exists at Surigao, but in south of the large sparsely settled island at Zamboanga, Cotabato, and other points the country is tranquil.

I believe that the result of the election of 1900 is a foregone conclusion. Mr.

Bryan was defeated in 1896 on the basis of a single issue.

He will be buried with that record. He will, and his political grave dug beyond the hope of resurrection by the addition of a new chapter of history. The election of 1900 is a foregone conclusion. President McKinley will receive in the Electoral College one of the largest votes ever recorded.

The Democrats are going before the country in what might well be termed an anti-platfrom. They are against everything—anti-gold, anti-expansion, anti-trusts. They make the absurd claim for an aggressive party, that even if entrusted with power, a Republican Senate would sit for six years, will

CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES

"THE FIRE IN THE REAR"

The Hope of Bryan's Election the Only Thing That Stands In the Way of Peace and Prosperity in the Islands That Dewey Won.

Secretary of War Root cabled the Philippine Commission on August 17 for a report of its operations to date. Following is the dispatch and the report of the commission cabled on August 21:

WAR DEPARTMENT TELEGRAM.

August 17, 1900.

To Philippine Commission:

The President wishes you to report,

by cable the views of the commission on the general condition of the islands as to peace and industry; business and revenue conditions prevailing; progress of the movement of the people toward the United States; the present extent of the insurgency; how much of the archipelago is in rebellion; the probable continuance of the guerrilla warfare, and the influences operating to prolong it; how it can be brought to a close; the cost and requirements of a civil government; and the like.

REPORT OF COMMISSION.

Secretary of War, Washington:

Repeating to the dispatch, the com-mision reports: It has for two months and half made diligent inquiries into conditions prevailing. The mass of the people have an aptitude for education, are ignorant, superstitious and idle, and in remissive degrees.

Hostility against Americans was originally aroused by absurd falsehoods of unscrupulous leaders. The distribution of troops in the islands has been comparately dispersed, the hostility and conditions improved the temper of the people.

The Indians are not surrendering, after defeat, have divided into small guerilla bands under general officers or have become banditti. Leaders or prominent Generals and politicians of the islands, including Aguinaldo, have been since captured or have surrendered and have taken oath of allegiance.

A policy of leniency culminating in amnesty and pardon was adopted in an attempt to end the rebellion.
